

The St.

JOHN BROWN
ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED

CELEBRATED
Grandson Of William Lloyd Garrison, The Principal Speaker, Says Nation Is Still Trying To Carry On

PRES. COOLIDGE ASSAILED
LAKE PLACID, N. Y., May 11.—

[illegible]

"However one feels about John Brown; whether one believes in his doctrine of violence or not, there is one thing about him which we can all join in admiring, and that is his devotion to his cause. That is one of the great reasons of his life. For that he believed to be right he was willing to spend his life, and before that he was willing to give all his time, energy and his strength. Let us all meet at this, particularly at this time in our history when the whole trend of modern life is away from serious purposes and serious aims, but which seems as if the bulk of our people were interested in jazz, the automobile, the radio, baseball, and every other thing but the things that are important."

Half Slave, and Half Free "We are still endeavoring to carry a Republic half slave and half free. Naturally I refer, among other things, to the condition of the colored people for whom Brown gave his life. Their disfranchisement causes and few people lift up their voices in protest. Through that disfranchisement the Constitution of the United States, that every child

America must bow down before as if it were a Geyser's hal before which once the Swiss peasants had worship, is daily violated. Curiously enough, the societies for the defense of the Constitution, the daughters of the American Revolution and all our other patriotic societies are silent about this flouting of the sacred documents which contain our fundamental laws. The only profit by it, and Congress refuses to act and reduce the Southern representation.

The worst offenders against the Constitution are the

...distribution today are not the hand
...of extremists who would move
...against it by extra legal measures.
...the officials of our country from
...the President of the United States,
...own, who are sworn to uphold the ...Constitution and regard it like so

By other laws, as something to be forced when they see fit, and what suits their purposes. The present President gives us one homily after another as to the perfection of our institutions and the wonderful happiness and prosperity. He cries, "Peace, Peace," and there is no peace. He does not defend the Constitution, he condemns it. He does and urge wholeheartedly that colored people of America make John Brown, the moral crusader, their inspiration and their model, that they devote themselves without stint and without question to the cause of freedom which was but won when Lee surrendered, and emancipation became a reality.

Legal Aspect Of The Present Contest Will Engage The Attention Of The Public Saturday Night At The Y. M. C. A. Before The "Supreme Court." D. W. Bowie Will Sit As Chief Justice.

Before, a Supreme court picked from members of the Mound City Bar Association, the recent city election will be contested Saturday, May 16, at the Pine Street Y. The court convenes at 8:30 p. m., Division No. 2.

Attorneys S. E. Garber, Frank R. Bledsoe and Emanuel Williams will represent Victor J. Miller, the Republican mayor-elect; while Attorneys Freeman L. Martin, N. B. Young, Jr., and Edwin F. Kenawill will present William L. Lee's claims.

Only the legal questions involving the casting and counting of certain ballots will be entertained by the supreme court, Hon. Daniel W. Bowles sitting as Chief Justice, with the six associate justices, Hon. J. M. Roberts, Robt. N. Owens, Harvey V. Tucker, Joseph L. McLemore, John A. Davis and Zephyr M. Ramsey.

and Deputy Attorney General, manifested their interest in the case by the public generally. It is understood that Mayor Miller and Mr. Igoe, or their representatives, will be among the interested spectators. Although it is true that the hearing will be not only pending, but also being held, it is said that the hearing will not be held in the circuit courts of the city, it is said that all the legal points will be brought out. The attorneys on each side are confident, on the eve of the trial, that they will win. The hearing will be conducted on a high and dignified plane, and the attorneys displaying all skill as would be seen before the Missouri Supreme Court where the interest of
